Do You Have an Idea To Improve Our Campus?

Do you have an idea that would help improve life at McMaster?

There is a way to make your dream a reality. The Student Life Enhancement Fund (SLEF) is a pool of money dedicated to “seed funding” for starting up new projects on campus. These projects are often proposed by departments and offices around the University, but some of the best ideas for new projects come from students themselves.

You may already recognize some of the projects on campus made possible through SLEF. The bicycle repair station on BSB field was a student-led initiative paid for by SLEF; and the new Student Wellness Lounge (SWELL) in the MUSC basement was also built through SLEF funding. Other start-ups, like the McMaster Teaching and Community Garden (across from the Greenhouse on campus) and MacTV are also initiatives that received seed funding from SLEF. In short, if you have an idea for how to improve campus, SLEF can help you carry that idea to fruition.

Applications for this funding are due on February 28th, so don’t waste any time applying! If you would like more information on eligibility or advice on creating your application, you can check out the website at enhance.mcmaster.ca. Also, all four of your MSU Board of Directors sit on the panel which helps distribute the funding, so don’t hesitate to come to any of us with questions about how to make your application stand out.

Every student has ideas on how to improve our school. Few realize the resources which exist to help make this happen. Submit your idea to SLEF, and help make a difference on the McMaster campus.
